

SOFT SKILLS

Soft skills consist of a combination of people, social, and communication skills, character traits, attitudes, and mindsets, as well as social and emotional characteristics, among others, which are sought for in all professions.

Motivation and time management, leadership, and open-mindedness - all of those are widely sought-after soft skills. Prakasam Engineering College conducts several soft skill programs every year to make our students more efficient and competitive in the corporate world

- Soft skill strategies
- Professional Ethics
- Values in Life
- Aptitude Training
- Universal Human value.

